

Biography for Caroline Hall BA MSc

Caroline graduated from Oxford University in Zoology and Imperial College London in Applied Entomology.

Her working life has been varied, to fit around family life. Employment has included working in a wholefood shop and for a Zoological publication, some teaching for the RSPB, then as a school librarian, and many years delivering mail on a bicycle until retirement. Hobbies include playing the piano, upholstery, and dancing with husband John, who is also a PACE Trustee.

Life after retirement was going to be all about developing our environmentally sustainable home and garden and being grandparents, with occasional bits of travel (as 'green' as possible) but then climate disruption and biodiversity loss became more critical and PACE happened!

Caroline's present term as Trustee (Secretary) of PACE Manningtree ends on 29th September 2025.
